

Quaestor PRESENTATION

We provide services for you and never touch your money or accounts. Your financial decisions are yours alone.

What is a Master Node

It is complicated to set up a Master Node. For untrained people without Linux experience, it's an impossible task. This is why we created the automated system to help you set up Master nodes

MASTERNODE DEFINITION:

Master nodes are computer servers, setup to serve the users of a particular cryptocurrency.

To say it simply, a Master node helps to maintain the network. And because of that - a Master node is PAID to do so, as all Master nodes are rewarded with coins that are mined or minted.

Hosting a Dash Master node generates Dash coins, a Polis Master node generates Polis coins, and a Quaestor Master node, of course, generates Quaestor coins. The earnings varies primarily according to the Master node count and each coin might have different payout periods.

Therefore, holding a Master node actually pays you coins every day or week. As an added bonus, you STILL own & control the coin that you put IN the Master node. We strongly believe this will be the BIG crypto opportunity of 2019. Look at it this way. It is like getting paid passively on the money you have in your back pocket wallet.

Quaestor Master Node "Click It"

With the Master Node (MN) "Click It", you can easily create all the Master Nodes you want in a few minutes just by clicking your mouse.

You can set up your own Master Node. If you do not have the funds to create a MN, then you can ask the community (network) to join your MN.
